

Entry into BS Pre-Veterinary Science Major

Instructions: Find your grade equivalent (see key below) for the grade that you received in each course or its equivalent course and multiply it by the course credit number. This will give you your total points. Take the grand total of your total points and divide it by the grand total of the course credits (35), which will give you your overall average, which needs to be a 2.700 or better to be eligible to enter the BS-Pre-Veterinary Science major.

| Predictor Course    | Grade Equivalent x | Course Credits = | Total Points |

Departmental Honors: If you currently have Departmental Honors listed as a subplan in the BS-AnimlSci major, it is VERY IMPORTANT to alert us to the fact by checking "Yes" or "No" in the box below because the Departmental Honors subplan DOES NOT automatically transfer with you to the BS-Pre-Veterinary major when your major change is processed. Departmental Honors must be manually added to your BS-Pre-Veterinary academic plan by the Honors Program Director in the Veterinary and Animal Sciences Department.
